

There is absolutely no reason to do it because there is absolutely no penalty, absolutely no risk of losing attorneys' fees, there is absolutely nothing that the court could do if they're not paid. They just pay the compensation as required and pay the medical payments when they get around to it. I think the amendment is an amendment that is designed to just bring medical payments only within the purview of the statutes as they already exist. I'd ask the adoption of the amendment, and like I said, I think LB 360 is as drafted now is a good bill. I think this does enhance it. I'd urge the adoption of the amendment.
